

Amari Rincome Resort once again celebrated another National Day. This time it was the German one on October 3rd. You could've called it a Dutch-Irish-German fusion with a touch of Thai, as it was a very nice touch for all the different nationalities living in Chiang Mai. So next time your national day is coming up, check with the Amari Rincome, they will most probably present a special lunch buffet on that day.